SERMON STUDIES

Chase Oaks Church

Description: How many times have you heard a great message on the weekend, only to forget it by the time Wednesday comes around? These easy-to-use studies provide discussion questions are designed to help your group process the passage and concepts covered in our weekend messages.

Here are the different series planned for this semester (titles may be subject to change):

- The G.O.A.T. (Jan 15-Feb 19): In this series, we will focus on the life of Jesus and what that means for us today. Jesus lived an undeniably impactful life. Whether you're a Christ-follower or not, it's easy to argue He was (and is) the G.O.A.T. What can we learn from the way He lived—the habits, routines, and choices He integrated into His daily life? This series, we will not only look at the practices of Jesus, but we also start to put them into practice.
- Abraham (Feb 24-April 2): We will take a closer look into the life of Abraham in the Old Testament. We will cover topics like faith, obedience, and temptation.
- Easter (April 9): A weekend to reflect and celebrate Jesus' sacrifice on the cross for the forgiveness of our sins.
- Relationship Series (April 16- May 14): This series is not fully formed yet, but we will dive into relationships: healthy, broken, or anything in between.

Length: Weekly throughout the semester.

Format/Cost/Materials: Group discussion questions can be accessed for free through the Chase Oaks App or by subscribing to the Message Rewind email (sent on Mondays).

Homework: No homework (if you've watched the message, you are super prepared!)

Goals & Next Steps: Great for groups that want to develop friendships and stay connected with conversations happening churchwide. Because there isn't any homework or cost, it is easy for everyone to engage and no one to be left out (or have any reason to skip!). It's also easy on the leader—not a lot of prep work is needed. And it helps take what everyone spent time listening to over the weekend to a deeper, personal, more applicable level.

Tips: Don't feel like you must ask every question. The point is to have an engaging conversation based on what was covered in the weekend message. Also, consider starting with an icebreaker activity or question to get the conversation rolling.

ESTABLISHED

Chase Oaks Church

Description: Something amazing happens when we take a season to journey in an intentional way with others to explore things that matter most, including things like the Bible, Jesus, prayer, and faith. Not only will you gain confidence together in what you believe, Established is designed to help your group connect in a much deeper way. The biggest highlight for many starts in week 6, when everyone starts sharing their “tree ring” stories with one another. Over 6,000 people have gone through this foundational study. We ask every Chase Oaker to go through it at some point—and since we’ve updated it a few times, if it’s been more than a few years since you’ve done it, there are new discoveries and experiences to enjoy!

Length: 10 Sessions + Introduction Meeting

Format/Cost/Materials: Workbook ($15/copy)
Available for purchase through Chase Oaks Church. Please contact your campus' Groups Pastor for purchase. It is highly encouraged for everyone to have their own book, even if you are doing this study as a couple.

Homework: Five daily readings and activities each week, about 15 minutes a day.

Goals & Next Steps: If your group wants to go deeper and grow closer together, this will do it. Established is designed for both new believers and seasoned Christ-followers alike. Each week builds off each other and will take you through foundational theology, spiritual disciplines, and storytelling.

Tips: Even if you've done it previously, doing it again with different or new people joining in will make for a powerful and compelling experience. We recommend meeting weekly during this journey.

Gentle and Lowly

Dane Ortlund

Description: Christ followers know about Jesus and what He has done—but who is He? This study will uncover Jesus’ deepest heart for His people, that He is “gentle and lowly in heart.” Author Dane Ortlund reflects on these words, opening a neglected but critical truth about who Jesus is for sinners and sufferers today.

Length: 10 Sessions

Format/Cost/Materials: The book is available on Amazon.

Homework: The study guide will dive deeper into chapters from the book Gentle and Lowly. Read the chapters, complete the week’s lesson in the study guide and discuss as a group when you meet again.

Goals & Next Steps: To understand the heart of Jesus in a new way and what that means to us today. For you to be able to draw closer to Jesus as He longs to meet you right where you are.

Tips: Host an “intro” week for your first group meeting. Be sure that each member has the book and study guide to begin reading that week. Remind group members of the chapters to read along with the lesson in the study guide that will be discussed during the following group session. The study videos are optional at an additional cost.

Back to Overview

What Does It Mean to be Chosen? Amanda and Dallas Jenkins

Description: This eight-session study pairs with the TV series, The Chosen, which focuses on the life of Jesus. Each lesson coincides with an episode from Season 1 of The Chosen. You will take a dive into the prophesy of Isaiah 43, of the coming Messiah, and its fulfillment in Jesus. Through this study, you will find what it means to be chosen and discover amazing truths in Scripture.

Length: Eight sessions

Format/Cost/Materials: The book is available on Amazon.

Homework: Watch the episode from The Chosen that coincides with the lesson for the week. Read in the study guide and answer the questions before the next group meeting.

Goals & Next Steps: To see from the Old Testament the promises that were fulfilled through Jesus in the New Testament. Grow in your relationship with Jesus as you learn more about His story, about the lives of His followers and how the promises found by God in Scripture are still true for us today.

Tips: Start with the introduction. Be sure everyone knows how to access the TV series to watch on their own time. Each group member will want their own study guide to work in weekly. As the leader, be prepared to lead the group discussion based on take aways from the TV episode or discuss some study questions from that week's lesson.

When Strivings Cease Ruth Chou Simons

Description: Instagram, Pinterest, Netflix—the self-improvement culture we live in is strong! The struggle to people please or prove our worth to others is exhausting and, in the end, pointless. Ruth Chou Simons explores the truth that through Jesus, you are enough. Soaking in the undeserved grace that God offers to us can lead to true freedom.

Length: Six sessions

Format/Cost/Materials: The book is available on Amazon.

Homework: This is a six-session study accompanied by teaching videos that can be watched during group time. In between group sessions, there are five days of personal study you will want to complete. There is a book that compliments the group study, but not required.

Goals & Next Steps: To receive God's grace and find freedom in Jesus, knowing that because of Him, you are enough. Understanding God's love and favor will fulfill the need of approval, love, and self-worth you long for.

Tips: Start with an intro week and share how to use the study guide. If you choose to also read the book, discuss that plan with the group as well. A leader guide is included in the study guide as well as a free streaming code to watch the teaching videos.

Genesis (RightNow Media) Charlie Dates

Description: Jump into the Old Testament to see how God used and continues to teach us through the lives of people like Adam and Eve, Noah, and Abraham. Pastor Charlie Dates explores how God used flawed but faithful everyday people to do His good work. Genesis is one of those books of the Bible that set the foundation for who God is, what His heart is and how flawed but faithful everyday people like us are part of the story of God.

Length: Six sessions of material. Add an introduction week to kick off your group season!

Format/Cost/Materials: Videos and free study guide are available on RightNow Media. Each session there is a short video to watch (about 15 minutes), accompanied by a FREE downloadable study guide. Both the videos and study guide can be accessed on RightNow Media.

If you don't have a RightNow Media account, you can get one for free by going here.

Homework: In the study guide, there is a section called Go Deeper. This is an optional section for individuals to work on throughout the week. It includes devotionals, Scripture reading, and space to reflect over what you read as you further your study of Genesis.

Goals & Next Steps: Become more familiarized with the book of Genesis. This foundational book of the Bible is an important book to know more about no matter where you are on your faith journey. Go deeper and connect with God as He worked through people in the Old Testament and continues to work through people today.

Tips: Use the study guide as a map for your group time. Watch the short videos during your group meeting, discuss the discussion questions and challenge others to go deeper during the week.

Rule of Life Podcast

John Mark Comer

Description: Looking for deep transformation and greater intimacy with Jesus? This podcast hosted by John Mark Comer and his team is about learning and applying the spiritual practices that Jesus lived and taught. This is for anyone who is interested not only in learning about spiritual practices but trying them out with the goal of fully integrating it into their daily lives. The podcasts will cover practices such as sabbath, prayer, fasting, solitude, scripture, community, simplicity, generosity, and hospitality. For this semester, your group will be going through the first two seasons: sabbath and prayer.

Length: Each season has four, 1-hour long episodes with two bonus hour-long episodes.

Format/Cost/Materials: Spotify or iTunes

Homework: Listen to the episode before group. Participants are asked to try out some practices and implement throughout the week. Individuals are welcomed to document their progress by journaling (optional). Be prepared to share your experience with the group.

Goals & Next Steps: The goal is to experience deep transformation and greater intimacy with Christ. Through practicing these spiritual practices, the hope is to be with Jesus, be like Jesus, and do what Jesus did.

Tips: There is a supplementary video that comes with each episode found on www.practicingtheway.org. You'll need to sign up and create an account (all free). There are companion guides with discussion questions and instructions on how to facilitate the group. There are multiple resources if there are people in your group that want to be challenged further. Spend about an hour or so navigating familiarizing yourself with the webpage, as all the resources and help are provided there.

Kingdom Heroes

Tony Evans

Description: What does it look like to actually grow your faith? Dr. Tony Evans will walk through Scripture and look at some real faith heroes and how we can learn to rely on God's strength as we walk together with Him.

Length: Six sessions

Format/Cost/Materials: Videos are free on Right Now Media. Each group member will want to purchase a workbook.

The Workbook is available on Amazon.

If you don't have a RightNow Media account, you can get one for free by going here.

Homework: Weekly homework to be completed in the workbook in between group sessions.

Goals & Next Steps: Faith is not meant to be a one-time thing. Faith is a constant decision to grow in relationship with God, but how does that work in our everyday lives? Going through this study will help us to understand what growing faith is and challenge us to make the choice to engage with God.

Tips: There are some leader tips included in the workbook. Plan to watch a 10–13-minute video during your group session that will lead into the video discussion portion. After this, there is an opportunity to dive into the Bible and really study together. At the end of each group time, you can pray for one another and talk through the weekly homework. Dr. Tony Evans has also written a book that compliments this workbook, but not required for this study.

How to Read Your Bible

Jennie Allen, Jo Saxton and Bianca Juarez Olthoff (Right Now Media)

Description: In this six-session study, a dynamic trio of speakers and authors, Jennie Allen, Jo Saxton, and Bianca Juarez Olthoff walk through an often-intimidating spiritual discipline: reading the Bible.

Length: Six sessions

Format/Cost/Materials: Each session there is a short video to watch (about 15 minutes), accompanied by a downloadable study guide. Both the videos and study guide can be accessed on RightNow Media. The leader guide is free and accessible on RightNow Media. The study guide is a digital download for purchase ($10) on RightNow Media.

If you don't have a RightNow Media account, you can get one for free by going here.

OR

Create an account at IFequip.com and you can access the videos, study guide and leader guide for free.

Homework: In between group sessions, the study guide leads through five days of scripture reading, reflection, and guidance.

Goals & Next Steps: It's great when groups simply want to get into the Bible, but we also know that it can be challenging to know where to start. This study will help to equip groups to understand the Bible, see how God's Word is relevant today and develop a hunger to know more.

Tips: Since the videos are short, plan on watching them in the group. If you are meeting in-person, make sure the host can stream the video content from RightNow Media. If you're meeting digitally, you can share your screen. Then, use the leader guide to navigate through the discussion time and you are all set!

1 CORINTHIANS

Jennie Allen (Right Now Media)

Description: This study on 1 Corinthians is a great pick for anyone looking to learn from Paul's letters to the conflicted Corinthian Christians who struggled choosing to live for God over living for themselves.

Length: 12 Sessions

Format/Cost/Materials: Each session has a short video to watch (about 10 minutes) which is FREE on RightNow Media. The study guide is purchased separately through these vendors:

Amazon or Christian Book

If you don't have a RightNow Media account, you can get one for free by going here.

Homework: In between group sessions, the study guide leads through five days of scripture reading, reflection, and guidance.

Goals & Next Steps: Through studying the book of 1 Corinthians and the conflicted lives of the Christians in Bible times, we can learn that choosing to follow Jesus every day is truly the best choice.

Tips: Since the videos are short, plan on watching them in the group. If you are meeting in-person, make sure the host can stream the video content from RightNow Media. If you're meeting digitally, you can share your screen. Then, use the leader guide to navigate through the discussion time and you are all set!

UNOFFENDABLE: NO OFFENSE. NONE TAKEN.

Ryan Leak

Description: “Being unoffendable isn’t about never getting offended. It’s about not staying offended.” Holding onto hurt caused by an offense really messes with our happiness. This study focuses on how God can use those things that have hurt us to help us become better versions of ourselves.

Length: Eight chapters

Format/Cost/Materials: Each person needs to purchase a book. “Food for Thought” discussion questions are found at the end of each chapter. Amazon

Homework: Minimal. Read the chapter between group sessions and be ready to discuss.

Goals & Next Steps: Life is full of opportunities to be offended or to cause an offense. Freedom is found when we can be offended then know how to not stay in that place.

Tips: As you go through this study together, pray for one another. Utilize the discussion questions at the end of each chapter, but also feel free to reflect on the Scripture in the chapters.

A GROWN-UP'S GUIDE TO KIDS' WIRING

Kathleen Edelman (the author of I Said This, You Heard That)

Description: This is a great partner study for I Said This, You Heard That. We recommend that you go through that study before diving into this one.

No matter the age or stage, kids are...hard. But understanding their wiring might change the way you look at (and speak to) every child that crosses your path from this day forward. Communication expert Kathleen Edelman has spent three decades helping grown-ups make sense of the kids around them. The result? Better behavior, better relationships. In this book and the six videos that go along with it, she'll do the same thing for you and the kids in your family, in your classroom, or on your team.

Length: Six sessions, consider an intro week to talk through the study format, materials to purchase, and get to know the group members.

Format/Cost/Materials: Each person or couple needs to purchase a workbook. Available on Amazon. The videos are free and available for streaming HERE.

Homework: Some. Workbook reading and activity to do each week.

Goals & Next Steps: If your group would like to grow as parents, grandparents, teachers, coaches, or leaders, this is a great study to use.

Tips: You can choose to watch the videos together as a group or individually prior to your group time. There are supplemental resources available for more information and helpful tools to help understand the kiddos in your life. Kind Words are Cool.

Back to Overview

LIVING WHOLE WITHOUT A BETTER HALF

Wendy Widder

Description: Alfred Hitchcock once said, “The only way to get rid of my fears is to make films about them.” Wendy Widder initially wrote this book based on this premise, but around singleness. Being single is not a problem to be fixed, so this book is not a “how to” type of study. Instead, this study is about living abundantly the life God promises without the promises or marriage. However, this study can be adapted for any circumstance: loneliness, unfulfilled desires, unanswered questions, pain, rejection, fear, and so on.

Length: 10 chapters, combine as needed based on the frequency of your group sessions.

Format/Cost/Materials: Purchase the book on Amazon or Christian Book. Study questions are listed at the end of each chapter.

Homework: Some. Read the chapter prior to each group session.

Goals & Next Steps: By choosing this study, you will learn from Wendy as she is honest about her fears about singleness and the cringy platitudes people often offer up about “the desires of your heart”. Rather than picking and choosing biblical “promises”, she rests in Hebrews 11 along with other heroes from the Bible that demonstrate how to embrace singleness as a God-given gift that can provide abundant life.

Tips: This study is not just for a group of singles. This study is great for any adult to read through as we all encounter disappointment, discontent, or a skewed perception of God’s promises to us.

RACE AND THE GOSPEL

Matt Chandler and Bryan Loritts (Right Now Media)

Description: Over the last year or so, it has become more evident that the church (and Christ followers) can no longer be passive when it comes to conversations about race. This study uses the book of Ephesians to address race, racism, and injustice. As Christ followers there is a unique opportunity to conversations about race and reconciliation in light of the hope of the gospel.

Length: Five sessions. Consider an intro week to talk through the study format, materials to purchase, and get to know the group members.

Format/Cost/Materials: Videos (around 20 minutes) and study guide are free and available on RightNow Media.

If you don't have a RightNow Media account, you can get one for free by going here.

Homework: None or some. The study guide offers a section called "Bible Exploration" which can become the homework portion if not discussed during group time.

Goals & Next Steps: Going through this study will guide conversations around racism in America and in the church but also how Christ followers can engage versus avoid. Truth and hope are offered through the gospel which is what this study is based on.

Tips: The study guide also serves as a leader guide. As the leader, prepare before your group session and decide what questions to discuss in the group and what can serve as some independent work between group sessions.

WHEN SORRY ISN'T ENOUGH

Gary Chapman and Jennifer Thomas

Description: We all say things we regret. We all hurt someone we love with our words or actions. Of course, we need to make it right, but sorry just doesn't cut it. In this study, Gary Chapman, author of "The 5 Love Languages" and Jennifer Thomas, an author, speaker, and psychologist, show some ways to effectively right the wrongs in relationships. An apology assessment tool is included in the book.

Length: 12 Chapters, combine chapters as needed depending on the frequency of your group sessions.

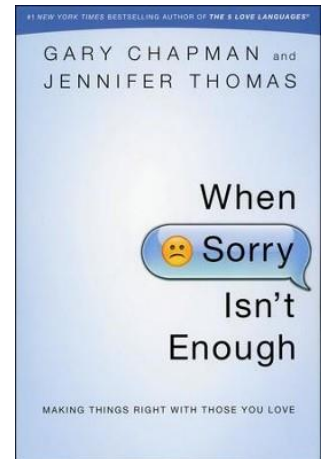

Format/Cost/Materials: Each person will need to purchase a book. Check Amazon or Christian Books.

Homework: Read the next chapter between group sessions.

Goals & Next Steps: This study will help you:

- Cool down heated arguments
- Offer apologies that are fully accepted
- Rekindle love that has been dimmed by pain
- Restore and strengthen valuable relationships
- Trade in tired excuses for honesty, trust, and joy

Tips: There are group discussion questions listed at the end of each chapter. Please use these to engage in authentic sharing and discussion over this book.

JEFF'S TOP PICK: IMMERSE MESSIAH

New Testament Challenge

Description: Maybe you completed our Immerse series reading through the books of Luke and Acts together. Whether you did or not, this is a great next step for your group. Over the course of eight weeks, read through the entire New Testament in a fresh, compelling, and unique way with the Immerse: Messiah Reading Bible. This journey will help you experience the Bible like never before and have a simple “book club” style conversation around what you discover each week.

Length: Eight sessions. Consider an intro week to talk through the study format, materials to purchase, and get to know the group members.

Format/Cost/Materials: Participants will want to purchase the Immerse: Messiah Reading Bible. If you purchased one during our Immerse series, you are all set! If you would prefer reading from your own Bible, that is ok too. However, this Bible is unique; it is the New Living Translation but reads like a book. The book is explained in detail on their website. If you would like to purchase an Immerse Bible, they are available on Amazon or contact your campus Groups Pastor or Director. There are a bunch of free resources to help you lead and people engage, including a free audio version, handouts, and the reading plan. To find these resources, go here.

Homework: A good amount. Each week has five readings, each about 10-12 pages. However, let your participants know they don't have to complete all the readings to participate. Whether you've done five minutes or all five days of reading, you can still answer the four questions asked each time: 1. What stood out to you this week? 2. Was there anything confusing or troubling? 3. Did anything make you think differently about God? 4. How might this change the way we live?

Goals & Next Steps: We will be jumping into a series on faith in February as well as Easter soon after. What better way to go deeper than to read the story of the New Testament together? If your group completed the Immerse Book Club, this is a great next step to continue those spiritual rhythms and read through the entire New Testament together. Also, whether people are Christ-followers or simply curious, journeying through the New Testament is a bucket-list item for most everyone.

Tips: Make your first meeting an introductory session and clarify that the goal isn't to read everything. Instead, the goal is to read more of the New Testament than maybe they've ever done before. Also, highlight the audio version, that is a lifesaver for many people. Finally, when tricky questions pop up (and they will), don't try to answer them right away. Put the question in a “parking lot,” a whiteboard or piece of paper that lists questions. You may find as you journey more through the New Testament the questions will get answered. If your group read through the books of Luke and Acts, feel free to jump over them and start with the next week.

THE DREAM OF YOU

Jo Saxton (RightNow Media)

Description: Geared towards women, this study by Jo Saxton addresses the feelings of guilt, brokenness, and disappointment that we often feel when our life doesn't quite compare to what we had hoped for ourselves. Find freedom in discovering God's deep love and confidence in your identity in Him

Length: Six sessions, consider an intro week to talk through the study format, materials to purchase, and get to know the group members.

Format/Cost/Materials: Videos and study guide are free on RightNow Media. The book is sold separately and not required for this study; however, it is referenced on the study guide and can be used to supplement this study.

If you do not have a RightNow Media account, go HERE.

Homework: A little, but not required. Study provides personal activities and readings, but not necessary to participate in the group discussion time.

Goals & Next Steps: Bringing light to the things that hold us back while also learning about God's love for us will be a couple of take-aways. Jo takes a deeper look at several biblical figures as well as her personal story about how turning to God over believing lies about herself helped re-envision her purpose.

Tips: The videos are about 15 minutes each, so watching them during group time is great! Use the study guide to facilitate group discussion and the "Apply What You Learned" section can be used for homework in between group sessions. There is also a leader facilitation guide available on RightNow Media (found in the description of the study).

THE GOOD AND BEAUTIFUL COMMUNITY

James Bryan Smith

Description: This is the third book in the trilogy “The Apprentice Series” by James Bryan Smith. This book helps us learn how to live in relationship with others with a kingdom mindset. Discover how to live in your faith authentically while walking alongside others in community.

Length: Nice chapters, combine chapters based on the frequency of your group sessions.

Format/Cost/Materials: Each person should purchase a book which has a group discussion guide included (page 203). See Amazon or Christian Books.

Homework: Reading the next chapter between group sessions. There are occasional exercises to enhance your experience as you dive deeper into this study so snag a journal and dig in.

Goals & Next Steps: This study will help those making efforts to be more Christlike by offering ways that we can become a blessing to the world around us. In order to become a blessing to others we have to know why we often times are not or why it is challenging to have healthy relationships with the people we interact with or meet.

Tips: Use the group discussion guide (page 203) that will go deeper into each chapter with discussion questions, prayer, and scripture.

TEACH US TO PRAY

Ranjit David (RightNow Media)

Description: This eight-session study will guide through the Lord's Prayer. Pastor Ranjit David explains this prayer as more than just a model prayer; it is a declaration of God's reign and authority over all of creation.

Length: Eight sessions, consider an intro week to talk through the study format, materials to purchase and also get to know the group members.

Format/Cost/Materials: Each session there is a video to watch (about 10 minutes long), accompanied by a study guide that will navigate your discussions.

The videos are available for free on RightNow Media. If you don't have a RightNow Media account, you can get one for free by going here.

Homework: Some. On the included study guide there is a section where each group member can select what they will work on before the next group session.

Goals & Next Steps: Going through this study will help you grow in your prayer life and understand what having a prayer life means.

Tips: As the leader, prepare for the discussion by reading the study guide prior to your group meeting. Decide which questions to dig into more and which ones to have group members complete on their own.

MEN OF CHARACTER

Gene Getz

Description: Gene Getz (Chase Oaks' founding pastor) has recently released the Men of Character Bible. Inside, you will find some incredible resources such as profiles of men in the Bible, excerpts from Gene's book, The Measure of a Man and other commentary. Gene has curated a suggested reading list for groups to work through together to learn more through God's word about developing godly character.

Length: Varies. Consider an intro week to talk through the study format, materials to purchase and also get to know the group members.

Format/Cost/Materials: Bible study. Each member will need to purchase a Men of Character Bible HERE.

Homework: Read and journal through suggested reading.

Goals & Next Steps: Besides getting into the Bible to learn more about godly character, you will glean from the wisdom of founding Senior Pastor, Gene Getz, now Pastor Emeritus at Chase Oaks.

Tips: You may need to combine some weeks to meet the needs of your group meeting schedule. The Measure of a Man would be a great supplemental resource if desired.

Review: “The Measure of a Man will help guys in your group get real about the core principles of being a godly man. The book (and free included videos) is really easy to use—practically anyone can host it, and it is sure to generate a great conversation about how to live out these principles. Not only will every guy grow closer to understanding God's plan for them, but each person will also form a bond with a band of brothers to help him along the way.” – Todd Baughman, Woodbridge Campus Pastor, Chase Oaks Church

“I SAID THIS, YOU HEARD THAT”

Kathleen Edelman

Description: This six-session study explores how your wiring affects what you say, how you listen, and how others hear you. After taking a 40-question assessment, you'll learn a simple framework that will instantly improve your communication. And you'll see how advice from the Apostle Paul thousands of years ago may have held the secret all along. This is one of the “best hits” each semester. If you have not gone through this study, you don't want to miss it!

Length: Six sessions, consider an intro week to talk through the study format, materials to purchase and also get to know the group members.

Format/Cost/Materials: Workbook is available on Amazon. Videos available to stream for free HERE or through their app.

Homework: Some. Workbook reading and activity to do each week. Also, groups may want to have members watch the session video in-between meetings.

Goals & Next Steps: Whether it is parenting, dating, marriage, or communicating with others in your life at work or in your family, this study is an excellent resource to help you move forward. It'll help you discover more about yourself, others, and how to connect with one another.

Tips: Some of the videos can be longer than others, which is why we recommend watching them in-between sessions in order to free up discussion time. Leaders should review the length of that week's video to determine the best way for their group to interact with it.

Review: “Everyone needs to go through I Said This, You Heard That as you will learn how to communicate more effectively. We all have different communication styles and this tool gives you a deeper understanding and strategies on why and how we speak and listen. If you ever communicate with anyone 😊, then this is for you!” – Peter Park, Legacy Campus Pastor

THE SMART STEPFAMILY

Ron Deal (RightNow Media)

Description: In this 8-part series, Ron Deal gives couples the seven fundamental steps to blended family success and provides practical, realist solutions to their issues you face as a stepfamily. Discover useable solutions for everyday living, practical tips for raising step kids, and ways to strengthen the couple's marriage.

Length: Eight sessions, consider an intro week to talk through the study format, materials to purchase and also get to know the group members.

Format/Cost/Materials: Book and Workbook, available on Amazon. Videos available to stream for free on RightNow Media.

If you don't have a RightNow Media account, you can get one for free by going here.

Homework: Some. Book and workbook reading for each week.

Goals & Next Steps: More and more stepfamilies in our church and community are looking for wisdom on how to grow as a family. Ron Deal's resource will help blended family couples in all situations take steps forward in their communication and parenting skills.

Tips: This study is best to do with a group comprised of stepfamily couples. To get the most out of the content, it is best to have both the book and workbook and use the free videos on RightNow Media.

BOUNDARIES

Henry Cloud & John Townsend

Description: People often focus so much on being loving and giving that they forget their own limits. Have you ever found yourself wondering: Can I say no and still be a loving person? How do I answer someone who wants my time, love, energy, or money? How do I stand up to hurtful behavior? In their award-winning book, Drs. Henry Cloud and John Townsend give you biblically based answers and guidance on how to set healthy boundaries with those in your life.

Length: 13 Sessions

Format/Cost/Materials: The easiest way to go through Boundaries with a group is to purchase both the book and the accompanying workbook. The book will take time to read but is very helpful and worth it. The workbook will give you practical questions to apply these concepts to your life and discuss with others.

You can find both the book and workbook on Amazon.

Homework: A good amount. It's best for everyone to read the book in-between sessions, and there are questions in the workbook to do ahead of time.

Goals & Next Steps: A boundary-less life is a dangerous, tiring experience. If you're looking to find hope, know when to say "yes," how to say "no," and take more control of your life, this study has helped countless number of people.

Tips: The book and workbook will give you more concepts and questions than you will have time to discuss in a group setting. That's okay! And since there are 13 sessions in the workbook and 17 chapters in the book, it's probably best to read more than just a chapter a week so that you finish before the end of the semester. It is definitely fine to simply read a few chapters each week, discuss what stood out, and pick a few questions from the workbook. There are also additional resources available at boundaries.me, though it requires a subscription.

THRIVING IN BABYLON

Larry Osbourne (RightNow Media)

Description: These are confusing times for many Christians. Traditional biblical values are not only rejected; it seems as if they're attacked and change is happening at warp speed. In this five-session series, Larry Osbourne takes us through the story of Daniel, a leader in the Old Testament forced to live in a fast-changing and godless society. Not only did Daniel survive, he thrived by leaning on the power of hope, humility, and wisdom.

Length: Five sessions, consider an intro week to talk through the study format, materials to purchase and also get to know the group members. You can also plan a service opportunity to do together and also a celebration meeting after the study has been completed.

Format/Cost/Materials: Free. Each session there is a video to watch (15-20 minutes long) accompanied by a free, downloadable study guide. Both the videos and study guide can be accessed on RightNow Media.

If you don't have a RightNow Media account, you can get one for free by going here.

While not required for this study, if you or others would like a deeper experience, you can also read Larry's book, Thriving in Babylon, found on Amazon.

Homework: Nothing that is required. The study gives a number of suggestions if people want to go deeper, but these activities are not necessary to participate.

Goals & Next Steps: This fall season promises to have a lot of tricky, divisive, and challenging situations arise in our culture. If your group would like to engage on those issues with a different lens, Larry's examination of Daniel is incredibly timely, as he will help you navigate with hope, humility, and wisdom.

Tips: We recommend watching the videos together as a group. If you are meeting in-person, make sure the host has the ability to stream the video content from RightNow Media. If you're meeting digitally, you can share your screen. Then, use the questions provided by the free study guide and you're good to go!

THE MEASURE OF A MAN

Gene Getz

Description: True masculinity is not measured by strength, wealth, or position, but by twenty biblical qualities drawn from the Apostle Paul's letters to his young proteges Timothy and Titus. Inspiring, encouraging, and practical, this classic book shows how you can measure up to Christ's fullness as a husband, father, and mentor to other men.

Length: Varies.

Format/Cost/Materials: Book study. Each participant will need a copy of The Measure of a Man found on Amazon.

Homework: Short chapters to read in-between sessions.

Goals & Next Steps: This is a classic and powerful book for men who would like to grow in friendship and godliness with one another. It was written by Gene Getz, founding Senior Pastor and now Pastor Emeritus at Chase Oaks Church.

Tips: In order to finish in one semester, read multiple chapters each week. Chapters are not long but are full of great questions to consider. Leaders should highlight questions that they feel would be especially helpful to their group. There are also free videos included, though these aren't required.

Review: "The Measure of a Man will help guys in your group get real about the core principles of being a godly man. The book (and free included videos) is really easy to use—practically anyone can host it, and it is sure to generate a great conversation about how to live out these principles. Not only will every guy grow closer to understanding God's plan for them, each person will form a bond with a band of brothers to help him along the way." – Todd Baughman, Woodbridge Campus Pastor, Chase Oaks Church

THE GOOD AND BEAUTIFUL GOD

James Bryan Smith

Description: We all have ideas we tell ourselves about God and how He works in our lives. Some are true—but many are false. James Bryan Smith believes those thoughts determine not only who we are, but how we live. This deep, loving, and transformative study will help you discover the narratives that Jesus lived by and to practice spiritual exercises that will help you grow in the knowledge of our good and beautiful God.

Length: Nine sessions, combine chapters as needed based on the frequency of your group sessions.

Format/Cost/Materials: Book study. Every participant will want a copy of The Good and Beautiful God, found on Amazon.

In the book there is a small group discussion guide starting on page 193.

Homework: In-between meetings, there is a short chapter to read and a “soul training” exercise to try.

Goals & Next Steps: This study is fantastic for a number of reasons. The Good and Beautiful God explores in a deeper way the narratives Jesus taught and lived by. Second, this book will help anyone in your group who wants to go deeper in spiritual disciplines like prayer, meditating on Scripture, and silence.

Tips: Use the discussion guide, starting on page 193.

Review: “One of the best studies I’ve been through with a group. A.W. Tozer says, ‘What comes into our minds when we think about God is the most important thing about us.’ The Good and Beautiful God is a great study to help us have a clearer picture of who God is and how that should impact the way we live.” – Glen Brechner, Executive Director, Chase Oaks Church

MORE THAN ANYTHING: LOVING GOD ABOVE EVERYTHING ELSE

The Daily Grace Co.

Description: Often when we think of “idols” we think of gold statues or other “gods” that people are tempted to believe in/look to. However, this study will have us looking at all those things that WE are tempted to make an idol of. Anything that we treasure (and look to fulfill us) more than God—things like busyness, comfort, children, relationships, health, food, traditions, work, pleasure, knowledge and yes, even our screens!

More Than Anything is a six-week study that will take us on an in-depth look at the idolatry historically displayed in Scripture along with common ways we continue to struggle with idolatry today.

Length: Six sessions. Details about a service opportunity and end of study celebration will be sent to those leading this study.

Format/Cost/Materials: Each participant will need to purchase a workbook here. You will also want to have a Bible to be able to complete the scripture portions.

Homework: Each week is broken down into five days. Each day has 1-2 pages of reading, some scripture references to look up, and 3-4 questions to answer to help you process.

Goals & Next Steps: There are many things vying for the affections of the heart, but only God can truly fulfill our needs and satisfy every longing. Our hope, as we walk through God's Word, is that we would identify and uproot any idols we have and that we would find ourselves loving God more than anything else.

Tips: You will need the book, a Bible, and an open heart for this study. This book is not available on Amazon Prime, so you want to order sooner than later. If you are doing it with friends—you might want to order together to save shipping costs. This study is GREAT and will provide a lot of great discussion. Get ready!

YOU WERE MADE FOR THIS MOMENT

Max Lucado

Description: Pastor and author Max Lucado takes us through the Bible and the story of Esther as she lived through some unbelievable circumstances that seemed impossible. Even when life's circumstances feel like too much or there will never be an end in sight, God promises there will be an end and that He is still in control. Check out this video about the study from Max HERE.

Length: Five sessions. Consider an intro week to talk through the format of the study, what to purchase and meet group members. You could even plan a service opportunity for your group as well as a celebration after the study has been completed!

Format/Cost/Materials: Study guide with video streaming code included. You can purchase the study guide HERE. There is a leader guide included in the study guide which is helpful as you plan your group time. Each member will want to purchase a study guide.

There is a book that compliments the study, and is referenced in the guide, although not required to do this study.

Homework: Some weekly reflection included in study guide. Optional reading from the book that was written alongside this study.

Goals & Next Steps: Hopefully you will complete this study with a different perspective about the story of God through Esther. Despite what we are currently facing or what we will face, God is in it and will work through it.

Tips: The videos are 17 minutes long on average. When hosting the group, be prepared to stream the videos for everyone to watch together.

COMPLEMENT: SEEING THE BEAUTY OF MARRIAGE THROUGH SCRIPTURE

Aaron and Jamie Ivey

Description: Ever felt like your marriage could be much more? Then you are on to something. Aaron and Jamie Ivey are dedicated to helping you see that God designed marriage for so much more than a ceremony or even mundane. Aaron is a pastor at a church in Austin, Tx and Jamie is an author, podcaster, and speaker. In this study, they will both teach from scripture but also share their own personal stories as they have navigated marriage together.

Length: Seven sessions, consider an intro week to discuss the study, what materials to purchase, and get to know the group members. You could plan a service opportunity for your group as well as a celebration after the study has been completed! Maybe even a group date night?

Format/Cost/Materials: Group Bible Study. Each participant will want to purchase a study guide. It is not recommended to share a copy with your spouse due to the personal homework each week. Study guide can be purchased HERE. There are videos that go along with each group session to start off the topic of the week. Each video ranges from 17-23 minutes and cover the topics of: love, forgiveness, sex, mission, and more. The guide recommends watching the video during the group session. You can look at the purchasing or rental options at Lifeway.com. Consider asking each couple to chip in to cover the cost of the videos.

If you need any assistance or have questions about the video portion, please reach out to your Groups contact at your campus. A leader guide is included in the Bible study guide. There is an additional book written by Aaron and Jamie Ivey but is not needed for this study.

Homework: Plan for three days of personal study and homework, one day of “Talk It Out” with your spouse to discuss some questions in the study guide, and one designated date night which is described in the guide as well.

Goals & Next Steps: Going through this study will hopefully see that your marriage is designed for much more. You will work through some personal perspectives about marriage and see what Scripture says. You will end the study with a “Marriage Manifesto” declaring what you and your spouse decide to live by together.

Tips: There are leader tips on pages 220-221 of the study guide. There is also an introduction and how to use this study at the beginning of the guide that is helpful to understand and plan the flow of your meeting time. The biggest decision with this study is how you would like to purchase and view the teaching videos.

THE RUTHLESS ELIMINATION OF HURRY

John Mark Comer

Description: There is no denying that we live in a hurry culture. Kids have endless activities; work is hectic, and that calendar doesn't stay empty for long. In this book study, you will discover a roadmap to staying emotionally healthy and spiritually alive in the chaos of today.

Length: Eight sessions including an intro week.

Format/Cost/Materials: You will want to purchase a copy of the book, audio, or Kindle version to read HERE. This study will be like a traditional book club where a suggested reading plan will be provided along with discussion questions to get the conversation going at each group session.

Not required, but some cool bonus features are:

1. Coaching videos from John Mark Comer going over his digital companion, “How to Unhurry”. He will unpack how to work towards silence and solitude, Sabbath, simplicity, and slowing. Access those videos HERE.
2. Personal workbook to complete the exercises from the coaching videos above. The workbook is FREE and available for download through the same link for the videos.

Remember, this is not part of the group book club, just an added feature for those who want to dig deeper into the “how”.

Homework: Weekly reading plan provided below. Feel free to adjust based on the frequency of your group meetings.

Goals & Next Steps: After going through this book study, the hope is that you have a fresh perspective on hurry in your life and an action plan to help you achieve a less hurried life.

Tips: Reading Plan:

Week 1: Chapters 1 & 2, Week 2: Chapters 3 & 4, Week 3: Chapters 5 & 6

Week 4: Chapter 7, Week 5: Chapter 8, Week 6: Chapter 9, Week 7: Chapter 10

Weekly Discussion Questions:

1. What was something you related to?
2. Was there something new?
3. What is one thing you'd like to try this week?
4. Is there anything that challenged your thinking?

THE GOOD AND BEAUTIFUL LIFE

James Bryan Smith

Description: We all have thoughts about happiness or success and what we think will make us ultimately happy. The problem is most of the time these ideas of happiness are false and lead us down paths of ruin, disappointment, and more. This book follows The Good and Beautiful God and helps us unpack the Sermon on the Mount which Jesus gives us the truth about the Kingdom of God.

Length: Nine chapters, combine chapters as needed based on the frequency of your group sessions.

Format/Cost/Materials: Book study. Every participant will want a copy of The Good and Beautiful Life, found on Amazon.

In the book there is a small group discussion guide.

Homework: In-between meetings there is a short chapter to read and a soul training exercise to try.

Goals & Next Steps: This study is fantastic for a number of reasons. First, Jeff will be doing a series on Jesus this spring. The Good and Beautiful Life explores in a deeper way the narratives Jesus taught and lived by. Second, this book will help anyone in your group who wants to go deeper in understanding the Kingdom of God and how to live a life full of purpose and joy.

Tips: Use the discussion guide included in the book.

GOD OF FREEDOM: A STUDY OF EXODUS 19-40

Jen Wilkin

Description: Each book of the Bible tells us what is true about God. This study focuses on the journey of God's people after they were freed from Egypt. Freedom was not only found for God's chosen people in the story of Exodus; there is freedom found today for those who know Jesus. Learn what it might look like to live in true freedom today as you look back on the freedom given in Exodus.

Length: 10 Sessions

Format/Cost/Materials: Each group member will need to purchase a study book which will include video streaming access. Check it out HERE.

The videos are quite long, ranging from 30-45 minutes. You may want to have group members watch the video before each group meeting, so you have more time to discuss.

A leader guide is included to facilitate the discussion.

Homework: Some in-between group meetings. These are guided and included within the study book.

Goals & Next Steps: To have a deeper understanding of the Old Testament relationship that God had with His people. Hopefully you will discover a new outlook on the freedom that is offered by God and how to live fully in it.

Tips: Plan your group meetings well. With longer videos and rich discussion, it could be easy to go over your scheduled time. Come up with a plan to allow for good reflection and discussion, not focusing too much on watching the video together.

THE POWER OF KNOWING GOD

Tony Evans

Description: God wants good for you. He has also called you to follow Him. He desires that you know Him beyond head and emotions. This study will provide practical applications to help develop a deeper relationship with a God that desires a deep relationship with you.

Length: Six sessions

Format/Cost/Materials: Each session there is a short video to watch (about 10 minutes), accompanied by an interactive workbook. Members will need to purchase a workbook for this study. The videos can be accessed for free on RightNow Media.

If you don't have a RightNow Media account, you can get one for free by going here.

Tony Evans also has a book that goes along with the videos and workbook, but is not required for this study, just an extra resource.

Homework: There are questions in the interactive workbook designed to be done in between group meetings.

Goals & Next Steps: Going through this study will give light to the significance of a deep relationship with God as you study Scripture and discuss together.

Tips: As the leader, plan for a way to show the video during the group meeting time. There are questions to discuss immediately following the videos. You will find sections of questions to discuss during group: Video Discussion and Bible Exploration. Both can be lengthy, so do some work ahead of time to plan for good discussion and time management.

EVERY GOOD ENDEAVOR

Timothy Keller

Description: Tim Keller is a pastor and author who is passionate about the subject of work and calling. His book may surprise you as he applies Biblical wisdom to the workplace—wherever God has you right now. How Christ followers view work is radically important and impacts how we interact with others during a bulk of the week and ultimately see our workplaces as a way to worship God.

Length: 12 Chapters, may need to adjust based on meeting rhythm.

Format/Cost/Materials: Each member can purchase a book here or wherever you buy books. Also available in audio version.

Homework: Read designated chapters before meeting together to discuss.

Goals & Next Steps: Those who go through this book can expect to find inspiration in the everyday tasks and interactions in the workplace.

“Theologically rich and philosophically informed, yet accessible and filled with practical wisdom.” – Comment Magazine

Tips: Leaders can choose to utilize a discussion guide to facilitate the conversation. Also, determine if chapters need to be combined in order to complete during the semester.

DAUGHTERS OF GRACE: WOMEN OF THE BIBLE

Daily Grace Co.

Description: Women have significance in the Bible as they play a part in the story of God. In this study, you will take a look at several women in the Bible and how their lives were used for His purposes. Not only will you study their stories and discover their significance, but you will also see how their stories impact your story today. The character of God is reflected in the 28 women studied in this Bible study.

Length: Six sessions

Format/Cost/Materials: Each member will need to purchase a book here. For additional resources, you can download the Daily Grace Co. App for videos, devotionals and more!

Homework: Five days of individual work between group sessions which is part of the workbook.

Goals & Next Steps: To gain a deeper understanding of the character of God seen through the lives of many women in the Bible. The significance goes beyond the pages of the Bible and impacts our lives today. The hope is that members will feel encouraged and inspired to live into their purpose and gifts to point others to Jesus.

Tips: Use the Daily Grace Co. App for more resources!
